Ok. I will sign off on the version I have. I will bring up this issue in our weekly meeting. I believe that approach is not what all different department managers' want for the AM.

After our meeting, I discussed the proposed change with management. My management does not support changing the Action Memo at this time. The change proposed in the meeting (fund lead verses RP lead) will require a request/coordination between remedial management and removal management on timing and resource needs (funding and personnel). I left a message for Gary about this issue. I have heard nothing new since my briefing with management last week and can not submit a different AM into concurrence without their approval.

I have the tank removal action memo at my desk for Gulfco. It is the old version that only contemplates removal conducted by the PRPs. Should I hold onto the AM until I get the version that has the fund lead language in the AM in case the removal is fund lead?
